Shore Power Safety Tips

Please be mindful of the following safety tips regarding shore power:

- Do not allow the cord to be in the water. Use a cord holder and store any excess cord length on the vessel, not on the dock.
- Never wrap cords around a shore power pedestal.
- Use only marine grade extension cords. Household extension cords are not permitted.
- Inspect entire cord, connectors and receptacles frequently for damage or charred areas.
- No altered cords are permitted.
- The 110 volt outlets on the pedestals are provided for accessories and are not intended for shore power connection to vessels.
- Shore power adapters should be used to connect marine grade extension cords being used to provide shore power to vessel systems.
